

School of Art and Design 3rd Annual Art History Symposium

Call for Papers

The Call:

All UNC School of Art and Design are invited to submit a 200 word abstract to give a 20-minute talk on a topic within the history of art.

About the Art History Symposium:

The UNC Art History Symposium is a competitive opportunity for art and design students to present their original research on a topic within art history. Students submit an abstract selected for a public presentation of current scholarly research. If chosen, they present their work at the Art History Symposium which allows them to develop the materials, conceptual sophistication, and public speaking skills needed to pursue advanced academic or professional opportunities upon graduation from UNC.

The Jury Process:

A faculty panel and guest juror will review completed abstracts; the selected abstracts will proceed to the UNC School of Art and Design 2nd Annual Art History Symposium on Friday, February 15. Finalists will present their proposal in person to the panel. One finalist will be selected as this year's Symposium Winner and will present their paper at the 2019 Front Range Art History Symposium at the Visual Arts Complex on the CU Boulder campus Saturday, April 13, 2019.

How to Submit:

Email the following materials to Director of Galleries Pamela Campanaro by Friday, January 25 at 5:00 pm:

- 200 word abstract saved as a PDF;
- A current resume.

Please note: Hard copy submissions will not be accepted or returned, and incomplete submissions will not be reviewed.

Students should propose topics derived from completed research papers. We recommend that students work with a faculty mentor and the Artist Help Desk to prepare their presentations.

Information Session:

In effort to help applicants prepare their professional materials, there will be an information session on Tuesday, January 15 at 4:45pm in Guggenheim 001. This is an opportunity to gain insight in how to successfully submit to the Art History Symposium. Questions related to the application process will be answered. Should you not be able to attend the information session due to a schedule conflict, please contact Pam Campanaro with questions regarding your proposal.
